CONSERVATION REPORT CARD

115TH CONGRESS, 1ST SESSION

Defenders of Wildlife is a national, nonprofit membership organization dedicated to the protection of all native animals and plants in their natural communities.

Defenders' approach to conservation is direct and straightforward: We protect and restore imperiled species throughout North America by transforming policies and institutions and promoting innovative solutions. Informed by scientific, legal and policy expertise, hands-on wildlife management experience and effective advocacy, we strive to make a lasting difference for wildlife and its habitat in these uniquely challenging times.

Defenders engages in vigorous congressional advocacy efforts in support of our mission. We express our views on legislation affecting wildlife and public lands, work to achieve acceptable pro-wildlife and habitat outcomes, and grade lawmakers on their votes in our annual conservation report cards. Defenders of Wildlife's 2017 Conservation Report Card measures the commitment of U.S. senators and representatives to wildlife and habitat conservation during the 2017 session of the 115th Congress. It tells you at a glance if your elected representatives are preserving America's natural heritage for our children and grandchildren.

This report card reviews nine Senate votes and 10 House votes with serious implications for wildlife, habitat and the environment, including a tax bill that authorizes drilling in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge and revocations of rules that safeguard our streams, guide management of public lands and protect bears, wolves and their young on national wildlife refuges in Alaska.

A bright spot in this session of setbacks is that comprehensive legislation to gut the ESA promised by some congressional leaders did not materialize in the 2017 session, and an amendment that could have led to the removal of more than 1,000 protected species from the endangered species list was defeated on the Senate floor.

KEY ISSUES & VOTES

8 Advancing Drilling in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge and Passing an Anti-Environmental Budget
